

COMFORT - Grief Relief & Mood Lift Lotion

Created by Resonant Botanicals - Comfort

Comfort is a cream by Resonant Botanicals to relieve you during times of loss and grief. While the tangerine notes act as the headliner, it's the accompaniment of the cypress, frankincense, rose, and its terpene counterparts that serve as a reminder of how even in the darkest times, we can still shine bright. Inspired by the mystical healing waters of the San Juan Islands of Washington state, Comfort brings healing frequencies to help soothe you during your grieving process, and calm you through difficult times with its full spectrum hemp oil.

Taking the time to heal and dedicate ourselves to self-care is the ultimate form of self-love we can enact. When we nourish ourselves with love, we can begin to rebuild, reconnect and galvanize who we truly are.

Sometimes, the best stories have tragic beginnings. The story of Comfort comes from the pain of losing loved ones and the desire to bring healing during a time of pain and sorrow. Many of us choose to neglect to confront this reality, choosing to hide in our work and lead busy lives, not realizing that our grief can stay dormant and manifest itself at a later stage in our life if unaddressed. Following multiple consultations with acupuncturists and studying the five-element healing process of Traditional Chinese Medicine, it was the element of water that stood out and soon became the foundation for Comfort.
